Finance Media – Delivers real-time streaming market data solutions to the Turquoise website

London – Finance Media a provider of financial market data driven applications, website design and development is pleased to announce the launch of a suite of enhanced real-time streaming market data solutions on the Turquoise website www.tradeturquoise.com/.

The new customisable cross-browser compatible solutions provide AJAX powered streaming real-time market data for the full universe of Turquoise traded stocks, including dynamically updating level 2 price banded order books and charting.

The web site data delivery is supported by Finance Media's 'FM Data Feed Manager' a market data feed handler that can deliver in excess of a 100 million updates in a trading day streaming dynamically updating data to browser based applications in real-time.

Yann L'Huillier CIO of Turquoise - "As a commitment to our financial community to offer real-time Turquoise Market Data, we have been very keen on offering this service free of charge through the Turquoise web site and Finance Media with their impressive streaming technology allows us to deliver a state of the art Market Data product."

"Turquoise is a new and progressive trading platform for Europe and we have worked closely with the team at Turquoise to deliver a set of feature rich on-line market data tools that are great to use and that best represent and present the Turquoise data" said Graham Clark – Business Development Director Finance Media.

About Turquoise

The Turquoise Multilateral Trading Facility (MTF) provides electronic execution services to buyers and sellers of pan-European equities. Turquoise's unique market model recognises the importance of visible order book activity in today's market structure and reconciles small order, high frequency activity with traders' desire to find larger institutional-size liquidity.

Turquoise's integrated market model combines dark and visible orders to increase the likelihood of execution and price improvement for small orders, whilst at the same time enabling large orders to be traded efficiently and with minimal information leakage and market impact.

Turquoise is an independent company, whose members include the largest banks and brokers active in European trading, as well as specialist trading firms and institutions with local, regional and sector focus. The Turquoise MTF has secured market-making relationships with key stakeholders to ensure a critical mass of natural liquidity, and with its wide membership, compelling functionality and
